

Fig. 1

This exploded perspective view shows the following components:

- 1a: A long, thin rectangular plate with a semi-circular cutout in the center and a notched end on the left.
- 2: A small rectangular plate with a stippled texture, divided into two equal halves by a vertical line.
- 3: A small rectangular plate with a smooth surface, positioned below component 2.
- 4: A rectangular plate with a cross-hatched texture, positioned below component 1a.
- 5: A small circular pin or rivet.
- 6: A small rectangular plate with a stippled texture, positioned to the right of component 2.
- 7: A small rectangular plate with a smooth surface, positioned below component 3.
- 8: A semi-circular component that fits into the cutout of component 1a.
- 16: A long, thin rectangular plate with a notched end on the left and two rectangular cutouts near the bottom left corner.

Fig. 2.

Diagram illustrating a woven fabric structure. The structure consists of a grid of interlocking loops. Label 10 points to a horizontal loop, label 11 points to a vertical loop, and label 12 points to the overall fabric structure.

Fig. 3

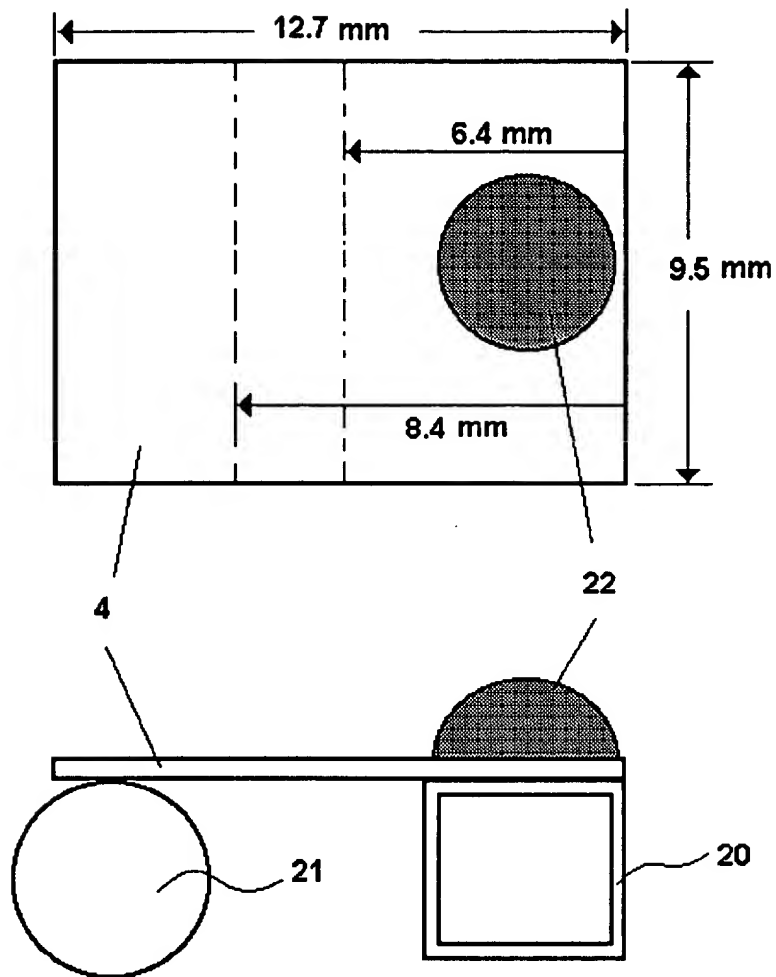

Fig. 4